We took note on the information provided and we appreciate the open and inclusive manner in which the consultations for the drafting of the national report were held.

The Chilean authorities have continuously cooperated with the United Nations and have shown attachment to the human rights both domestically and in the international fora. We salute the launching of a standing invitation to the special procedures, the adoption of the anti-discrimination legislation and the creation of the National Institute for Human Rights.

As the reports submitted to us show, the challenges facing the Chilean society include the difficult process of addressing past human rights violations. We thank Chile for the information provided and we would like to have more details in possibility to prosecute those responsible for committing serious human rights violations during the dictatorship.

We wish to recommend Chile to continue to continue to adopt measures to combat extreme poverty and to continue its' co-operation with the OHCHR.
